Pupil, 17, dies in school trip swim tragedy

AN "extremely popular and talented" teenager has died on a rugby tour of Canada, his school has said.

Wallington County Grammar School pupil Abdul Jamal Ottun, 17, (above) died during a swimming trip at Shannigan Lake School in British Columbia on Sunday.

The Year 12 student was a keen sportsman and his family were last night said to be "devastated" by his death, according to the school's headmaster Jonathan Wilden.

The rugby tour has been cut short by more than a week and his fellow pupils have been offered support, while a remembrance area will be set up at the front of the school in the London borough of Sutton.

In a statement, Mr Wilden said emergency services were unable to help the youngster, who "sadly passed away at the scene".

Three arrests in terror probe

THREE men have been arrested on suspicion of being involved in the commission, preparation or instigation of acts of terrorism.

Officers from the Metropolitan Police's Counter Terrorism Command swooped on the men yesterday.

A man in his 20s was arrested at a business address in Letchworth, Herts, and two others – one in his 20s and the other in his 30s – were detained at separate residential addresses in Luton, Beds.

Jorgie limbers up for Hollywood!

HOLLYOAKS beauty Jorgie Porter was spotted flaunting her curves on a workout session in Los Angeles. The 27-year-old blonde bombshell, who plays Teresa McQueen in the Channel 4 soap, was out jogging in Runyon Canyon

Park in California yesterday. One onlooker told reporters: "Jorgie definitely caught the locals' attention over here. 'There are rumours she's going to try to break Hollywood – so she's off to a good start!'"

DAVID Cameron has attacked the SNP for its "entirely opportunistic" position on foxhunting after he was forced to postpone a vote on relaxing the ban when the party decided to oppose the move.

The controversial vote, which was scheduled for today, would have brought the law south of the border in line with that in Scotland, where an unlimited number of dogs can be used to "flush out" a fox to be shot, compared with just two in England and Wales.

Block

But the SNP's 56 MPs agreed to break with their normal practice of not voting on England-only matters and join Labour in opposing the proposal.

Together with a number of anti-hunting Conservative MPs, who have been granted a free vote on the issue, this was expected to be enough to block the change.

Mr Cameron said the move brought forward the need to address the issue of "English votes for English laws", which would give English MPs the sole decision over England-only legislation at Westminster.

Asked if he had been "outfoxed" by the Scottish First Minister, the Prime Minister told the Times CEO summit: "I would not quite put it like that. The position of the SNP has up to now always been clear which is that they do not vote on matters that are purely of interest to England or England and Wales.

"I find their position entirely opportunistic and very hard to explain in any other way."

Mr Cameron defended the Evel proposals – saying the only way to achieve "perfection" would be to create an English parliament and a fully-federal system – something which would not be right for the UK.

Proposals

Asked if he might strengthen the current proposals in the wake of the SNP move, the PM said: "I am a believer in the United Kingdom."

"I want us to stay together as a United Kingdom and we have to recognise that England is a very large part of the total."

Greek hookers target Brit tourists

CRISIS hit Greek sex workers are having a bailing out of their own – and British holiday makers are the target.

Cashless Greek punters are on the war path after their favourite hookers began leaving the struggling mainland following the closure of the banks.

It is thought the working girls have all headed to the country's packed island beach resorts to hook up with richer Brit tourists.

And the Midweek Sport can reveal the desperate girls, who are said to now charge just 20 Euros a night, are even bonking their new clients in TENTS to slip under the radar of the police.

The minge migration comes as the EU pledges to lend Greece 86bn Euros (£61bn) to help the country's economy get back on its feet, and its hookers on their backs!

One client wrote on sex forum RND nation: "If this social destruction doesn't speak volumes about the effect this austerity has had over people's life, then nothing does."

Greek PM faces own MPs' revolt

GREEK PM Alexis Tsipras faced revolt from his own ministers as he sought support for the bailout deal and as unions in Athens called for a national strike to protests at what they see as a sellout.

The government must pass a raft of measures through Parliament by tonight (Wednesday), including consumer tax increases and pension reforms, in order to start negotiations with European creditors on a third bailout worth up to 86 billion euro (£61bn).

The deal tramples on practically all of Mr Tsipras' pre-election promises to repeal the budget austerity that European creditors have imposed for five years.

The government's political survival is in danger if large numbers of its own MPs resign their seats or openly vote against the Bill.

SAS WIDOW DEMANDS TEST CHANGES

THE widow of a reservist who died after collapsing on an SAS test march has called for changes in how the exercises are run.

The wife of Corporal James Dunsby said the Ministry of Defence needed to look at its own culture after a coroner highlighted gross failures in the way the military exercise was carried out.

Bryher Dunsby, speaking after the inquest in Solihull, said the MoD "displayed no responsibility, no accountability and no humility for their role in creating the culture which led to the events of July 13, 2013".

Cpl Dunsby and two others collapsed during a 16-mile march on the Brecon Beacons.

A senior coroner ruled neglect played a part in the men's deaths, including delays in getting basic medical treatment to them. The MoD has apologised for the three deaths.

In the case of Cpl Dunsby, from Trowbridge, Wilts, the coroner found the exercise's commanders monitoring the GPS on his rucksack failed to spot he had stopped moving for more than an hour.

Mrs Dunsby added: "It is my wish and plea that the Ministry of Defence has the maturity to look at its failings and to want to improve."

Rant stalker's threat to gun down Rihanna

COPS are hunting a gun-crazed stalker who has threatened to KILL Rihanna.

The man posted pictures of himself on social media outside the Umbrella singer's house, saying he wish he had shot her.

He wrote: 'Should of killed @rihanna a minute back I would be good right now'.

He then continued: 'Sorcery is a weapon I use guns', adding, 'Can't. Use hands'.

The man also sent Rihanna menacing messages before his account was suspended.

Police are now using electronic records to try to find the stalker.

A man was arrested last month trying to gain entry to Rihanna's New York apartment.

In July 2014, a 53-year-old homeless man was arrested for hand-delivering eerie messages to her flat.

And in October 2013, a trespasser was nabbed at Rihanna's $12million home in Pacific Palisades.

Ariana says sorry for hole lot of licking!

POP babe Ariana Grande has been spared the threat of jail after she was caught LICKING donuts in a bakery.

The 22-year-old had been threatened with criminal damage charges following the incident, which was caught on CCTV.

But now the owner at the Wolfee Donuts shop in Lake Elsinore, California, has decided not to press charges.

The business was later criticised by health inspectors for poor hygiene following the incident.

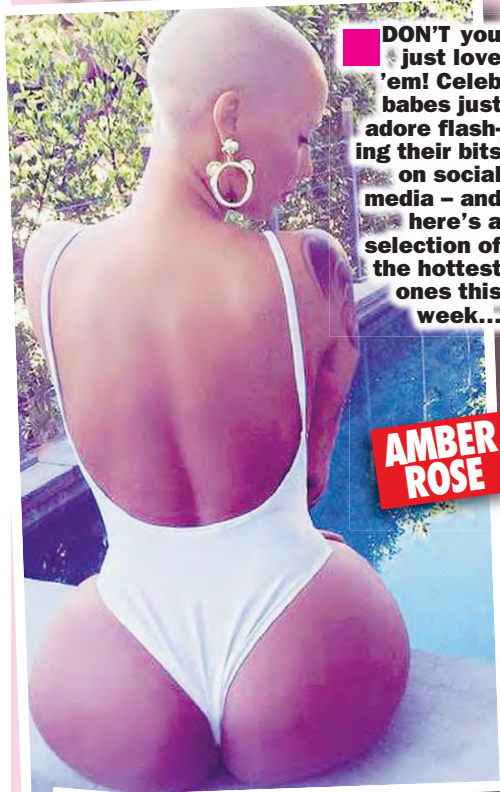

Problem hitmaker Ariana posted on her YouTube page: "I just wanted to make a video to apologise again for the whole donut fiasco and craziness.

"I was so disgusted with myself, I like wanted to shove my face into a pillow and like disappear.

A police insider said: "Miss Grande is a lucky lady. They'd have eaten her alive in prison."

Impending ice age needs some fracking investment

THERE are different opinions on whether fox hunting should remain banned in England and Wales.

But most people agree that any laws that only affect England and Wales should be decided by English and Welsh people, and the politicians that represent them.

So why is it that the SNP have said they will vote to retain the English fox hunting ban?

It's because Labour have begged for their support.

You remember, the Labour party that before the election promised they would never do any deals with the SNP?

Yes, that's the one.

RECENT findings by scientists at the National Astronomy Meeting in Llandudno, who were studying solar activity, have found we could be heading for a period of significant global cooling – a mini ice age – in about 15 years' time.

Now before you all batten down the hatches or think about emigrating to the Costa del Sol, don't panic! We have been here before.

The most recent period of significant cooling, often called the Little Ice Age or the Maunder Minimum, occurred from about 1645 until about 1715.

In England temperatures fell to the extent that the River Thames would regularly freeze over – allowing for frost fairs – while in some years the river would remain frozen solid for up to two months.

I don't think these scientists are suggesting that we can all look forward to frost fairs on our waterways but they are right in their assertion that it is the sun, and not carbon emissions, which has the most dramatic effect on our climate.

Sadly, though, we live in an era where so-called science is driven by money and agenda.

For years, we have been told that we are three – or even two – degrees from disaster and if we don't cut our emissions now, all the polar ice will melt, our coasts will flood and we will be prone to more extreme weather patterns.

Rubbish!

If there is an impending disaster it is not from floods or even a possible mini ice age.

Oblivion

The disaster is already in the works and it goes by the name of the 2008 Climate Change Act, signed into law by Labour and Conservative MPs chasing the trendy green vote and looking for an ideal opportunity to tax us into oblivion.

This single piece of legislation is estimated to be costing the UK as much as £18 billion a year – and that's the government's figures, not mine.

It is no surprise that it is dubbed "the most expensive piece of legislation in British history".

If this mini ice age does come about, what households will need more than anything is affordable energy to keep their homes warm.

Let's scrap the Climate Change Act, invest in some fracking where it is safe to do so and abolish green taxes and levies that add £197 to the average fuel bill.

Justin Dunn's Room 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Germans are behind real Greek tragedy

THOSE pesky ruddy Greeks! They all retire too soon. They don't pay tax. Everyone who doesn't own a taverna works for the Government. And their pensions are way too high.

Whether you're fanatical about the workings of Europe or not it has been impossible to ignore the hellish goings-on in the world of Hellenica.

And this week – just days after the Greek people said a resounding "no" to more austerity in a referendum – the Government has, er... agreed to adopt more austerity in return for SQUILLIONS more euros in bailout cash.

Bet you David Cameron loves the sound of that – a referendum called by a government which then blithely ignores the result and heads off in the opposite direction...

What's even more confusing is that it turns out all these mounting sums of bailout money aren't necessarily going towards helping the actual Greek state.

Just 11 per cent of the hundreds of billions have found their way into Greek governmental coffers.

Most of the rest of it has gone into bailing out the banks – institutions that are largely owned by France and Germany in any case.

Greece also spends heavily on defence.

According to the respected Private Eye news mag, up until 2009 – when it came close to bankruptcy – it was the fifth largest importer of weapons in the world.

Last week they wrote: "On paper, the Greek army has more tanks in service than Germany, France and Britain put together."

And where are all these tanks and other heavy military kit mainly being bought from? That'll be Germany again.

No wonder the burghers in Berlin have been determined to keep Greece inside the Euro and the EU – the nation is one of its most lucrative customers!

I SCRIBBLE this from mainland Europe, where I landed on Monday night after the flight was delayed first by a computer glitch and then a lack of fuel.

"We're going to put a bit more in," said the captain.

Don't spare the horses, barman – bring me the vodka!

Much has also been made of corruption in Greece, but again Private Eye say the microscope has been on the wrong set of people.

While there's no doubt some Greeks have been involved in dodgy dealings, it's often been happening because someone was dangling a carrot in front of them.

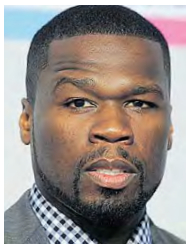

One of the chief dangles is none other than German industry, where financial "inducements" have long been a staple way of doing business.

It now emerges that prosecutors in Athens are probing suspected corruption cases involving German bribes to Greek businesses dating back 20 years.

Vonsprung durch tech nicked, you might say.

$5m sex tape bill could finish 50 Cent

CONTROVERSIAL rapper 50 Cent is facing financial ruin after being ordered to pay a staggering $5MILLION settlement over a sex tape.

The multi-millionaire – who has now filed for bankruptcy – posted mum-of-two Lastonia Leviston's private sex video as part of his rap beef with rival Rick Ross.

A six-man jury took just over an hour to reach a verdict after a five-week trial in New York.

The jurors found that Leviston suffered "severe emotional distress" when the rapper – real name Curtis Jackson – narrated the video, calling her a "slut" and "motherf**king porn star".

They also decided Jackson had profited off the posting that was linked to his website thisis50.com.

Leviston's lawyers said the publication of the 2009 film, which shows her in graphic sex positions with her then boyfriend Maurice Murray, nearly drove the mother of two to suicide.

Amputations growing fast

THE number of amputations carried out due to diabetes has reached an all-time high of 135 a week, a charity has warned.

Diabetes UK say the rate is rising due to a huge increase in the number of people developing the condition, which is linked to being overweight.

And the charity wants people to tweet Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt about the issue, using the hashtag #135shoes to highlight the fact that feet are at particular risk.

New Public Health data shows the annual number of diabetes-related amputations in England is now more than 7,000, compared to the previous 6,677, equating to seven more amputations each week.

The charity claim up to 80% of these amputations can be avoided if people with diabetes receive the necessary care earlier.

'STRESSED' RAF PERV FILMED UP SKIRTS IN FRONT OF QUEEN AT ASCOT

CLOSE-UPS: Perv's camcorder was of a very high quality

AN RAF man was so stressed at work that he took himself off to Royal Ascot – and spent the day shooting videos up women's skirts.

Andrew Hack, 44, lay on the grass during the world famous race meeting last month and used his camera to film behind him as gorgeous women in colourful hats and revealing dresses also lay down on the grass to cool off in the sun.

Hack, who is married, took the opportunity to 'zoom in' with his high quality lens as he filmed over his shoulder, capturing images of his targets' underwear as they sat down or stood up.

The RAF Flight Sergeant was eventually spotted by suspicious security guards as they patrolled around the grandstand and parade ring, where members of the Royal Family were also present, more keen on watching the racing than the racegoers.

Naturist

Hack, a self-confessed keen naturist, appeared at East Berkshire Magistrates' Court and heard the woman prosecutor reveal details of his "stress-busting".

The Flight Sergeant who filmed up the skirts and down the tops of more than a dozen women at Royal Ascot, admitted a single charge of outraging public decency.

ROYALS: Event was supported by the Queen

JP's heard that Hack was arrested in the Royal Ascot car park in the evening of June 19 after police were approached by a member of security. He had been ejected from the racecourse prior to his arrest after the security guards caught him snooping with his camcorder.

Arresting officers checked the footage on the camera and found 82 video files which showed up-skirt shots of around 13 women.

Pamela Hayre-Wakefield, prosecuting, said: "For the majority of the videos the defendant had clearly sat down on the grass near a group of women drinking and filmed backwards with the camera positioned between his arm and his body.

"The camera was of very good quality and could perform extreme close-ups.

Breasts

"The majority of the women in the footage were wearing underwear, but in some videos you are able to see female pubic hair. One officer observed images of female genitalia and breasts on the camera.

"Mr Hack had been using his camera to zoom in and film up skirts and down tops."

Hack, of Didcot, Oxon, admitted the offence, saying he'd been stressed at work and sought "a challenge and a thrill".

He claimed he was unaware he was committing an offence and had carried out similar practices 20 to 30 times over the last 20 years, but hadn't gained sexual gratification from doing it.

Jelia Sane, defending, added: "There is no suggestion that Mr Hack followed or pursued the women in any way.

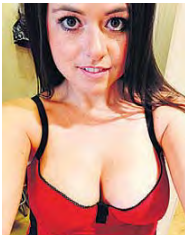

"No threats were made and there was no racial or religious aggravation.

"He did not subject the women to high levels of harm and he understands the repercussions that his actions will have on his work life and family life – his partner is currently seven months pregnant.

"This was an instance of someone seeking a thrill and a challenge under a great deal of strain."

Hack will be sentenced later.

Selfie queen Karen: I'll do Playboy

SELFIE babe Karen Danzuc says she'll pose for Playboy if they come knocking – but draws the line at porn.

The 32-year-old mum of two, who has split from Labour MP hubby Simon, says she'd find it tough to turn down a call from magazine boss Hugh Hefner.

She said: "I've been offered porn, but I wouldn't do that. I haven't been offered Playboy, but if I was I'd think hard about it."

"What woman could refuse Playboy? I've also had a lot of offers to do TV and radio – even my own chat show."

Karen, dubbed the "Selfie Queen" for her busty Twitter pictures, has also refused to rule out reuniting with Simon, 48, adding: "I'd never say never."

"It's a possibility, but neither of us knows what the future holds."

However, the MP is convinced his wife cheated on him after she spent the night with personal trainer Ben Bate just days after their split.

He said: "It wouldn't surprise me if it had been going on for four or five months."

'Penis Vagina' home screwed

THE owners of a house that has failed to sell for more than three years claim it's because they live in a RUDE village.

The property in Southern Sweden would normally have been snapped up by now because of the area's housing shortage.

But the two-bedroom home – for sale at just £32,000 – has fallen foul of its saucy address.

The village of Snorslida translates literally in Swedish as 'penis vagina'.

But the estate agent in charge of the sale, Henrik Håkansson, says the name isn't really the reason the home is still on the market.

He said: "The house is in a bad condition – the difficulties selling it are not related to the name."

"It's a very small area with not many customers, but we've sold this house before and can do it again."

BROTHEL KEEPER SECRETLY VIDEOS HOOKERS' SEX ROMPS

SEEDY SEX DEN: Meredith

Hidden cameras perv is jailed

A CONVICTED sex offender turned his home into a BROTHEL – before secretly filming prostitutes having sex.

Creepy Paul Meredith, 57, transformed his one-bedroom rented house into a seedy sex den where prostitutes could service their clients' needs.

A court heard the pervert would then set up hidden cameras to record the girls – without their knowledge – during their romps with men.

But he was rumbled when cops stormed the address in Stoke-on-Trent, Staffs., to find dozens of sex toys, explicit DVDs and a webcam.

Recordings were also seized of Meredith arranging for payments to be made to the women, and £330 in cash was found in his bedside cabinet.

Meredith was jailed for a year after admitting keeping a brothel for prostitution at Stoke-on-Trent Crown Court.

Judge David Fletcher said: "You were clearly keeping this particular premises for what is, in short, brothel keeping."

"Your involvement in this was of high level. Your voice appeared in most of the recordings you made.

"These ladies seemed to be under the influence of drink and drugs."

"You are no stranger to the criminal justice system, or to sexual offending, and on this occasion you pleaded guilty to brothel keeping."

"The starting point for you is 12 months."

Meredith was caught after police raided his house in the Normacot area of the city in 2013.

Drugs

Prosecutor Sharonjit Bahia told the court: "Various items were seized, including a computer and a webcam facing towards the bed."

"There were sex toys, CDs and DVDs."

"The camera was facing in the direction of the bed and various conversations about payments and the recording of sexual activity was found."

"Cash amounting to £330 was also found in the bedside cabinet."

"In relation to one of the videos, it was clear the women did not know they were being recorded and that they were under the influence of alcohol and drugs."

Graeme Simpson, defending, said: "There is no abuse or distress here and no exploitation or commercial gain on a large scale."

The British-born beauty, 24, shot to fame after posing TOPLESS in Robin Thicke's Blurred Lines music video back in 2013.

And now she's OFFICIALLY ranked the sexiest girl in the music industry – ahead of pop superstars Ellie Goulding, 28, and Beyoncé, 33!

Emily, who boasts all-natural 32D curves, celebrated her victory earlier this week by tweeting a cheeky holiday snap (above).

By WENDY THOMAS news@sundaysport.co.uk

Meanwhile, we can reveal the other stars who featured on the online poll include red-hot runner-up Rihanna, 27, and third-placed Rita Ora, 24.

Ellie Goulding and Beyoncé had to settle for fourth and fifth spots, one place better than Selena Gomez.

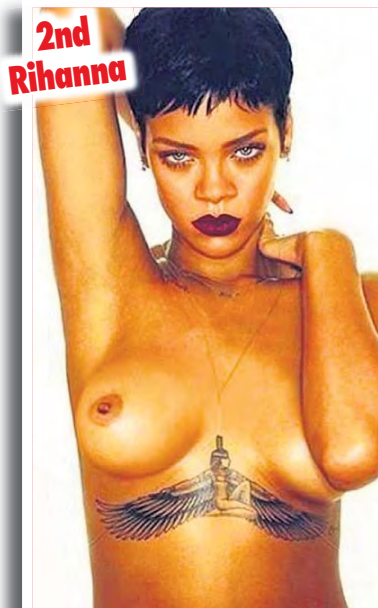

Rappers Nicki Minaj, 32, and Iggy Azalea, 25, were next on the list – but

The X Factor judges Cheryl Fernandez-Versini, 32, and Tulisa Contostavlos, 27, only just managed to finish inside the scorching top ten list.

A showbiz source said: "You might be surprised that Emily Ratajkowski won this poll, considering that she's not even a singer."

"But her incredible global success after the Blurred Lines video guaranteed her a place in pop history."

"And there's no question about it – she definitely has the best body in the business!"

I'M hardly surprised my hometown is the HORNIEST place in Britain!
There are lots of busy nightclubs where people hook up.
And plenty of tourists come to Brighton for lads' holidays – and even hen parties!
Not to mention all those horny couples looking for a dirty weekend away.
So, as you'd expect, LOTS of people are feeling sexy and up for it.
I actually lost my virginity on Brighton beach when I was 18 – and it was bloody brilliant!
It was sunset and it all felt so right. I definitely have no regrets!

BRITAIN'S horniest men and women live in BRIGHTON, a sizzling study reveals.

The south coast resort is well known nationally for its thriving homosexual community.

But a new survey has given it another claim to fame – as the place where singles have the highest libido.

Edinburgh came a close second in the study, with London third.

But there's bad news for folk who live in Stoke-on-Trent, birthplace of pop crooner Robbie Williams (right) – it boasts the LEAST horniest bunch of unattached people.

Wolverhampton, Preston, Birmingham and Liverpool make up the bottom five.

Dating site EliteSingles mapped out the figures after asking 100,000 Brits to anonymously respond to the statement: "I have a strong desire for sex."

KINKY Robyn Lambert revealed she loves to romp in the sea – and we bet she's a great swimmer.

The 21-year-old blonde shows off her pair of 32E lifesavers in these racy topless snaps.

And she told how she'd be happy to give mouth-to-mouth in a randy beach-side clinch.

Robyn, 21, from Milton Keynes, said: "You'd have to be discreet if you were on the beach – but you could swim into the sea so far that no-one can see you and just start going for it."

"Also, at sea you wouldn't get sand in intimate places!"

a monster!*KRAY WIFE'S SECRET DIARY TELLS OF BRUTAL GANG WAR YEARS

By TOM RHODES

news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE tragic tale of gangster Reggie Kray's long-suffering wife is finally revealed – as bloody biopic The Rise of the Krays traces the early years of the twin brothers' East End criminal empire.

The daughter of a nightclub owner, Frances Shea, married troubled Reggie in 1965, when she was aged 22.

But after realising the SHOCKING truth behind her husband's 'hard man' public image, she left Reggie after a couple of weeks – and killed herself just two years later.

Her cause of death was a drugs overdose – but Reggie Kray's ex-lover claims his brother Ronnie Kray MURDERED Frances – out of jealousy.

During her stormy relationship with Reggie, which began when she was just a teenager, Frances heard TERRIFYING details of the Kray twins' brutal and often sadistic crimes.

And her recently discovered private diary – sold at auction last year – reveals the untold story behind her marriage to London's most notorious crime lord.

Frances began writing the journal towards the end of her marriage to Reggie, who died in October 2000, after friends told her to collect evidence for a divorce case.

The handwritten notes appear to be rushed and lack in-depth detail, but nonetheless tell a harrowing story of life with a gangster – including:

- HOW Reggie slept with "a flick-knife under his pillow"
- THE "gun, sword, and knife" in his bedside table
- HIS drunken rages and all-night drinking sessions
- HIS paranoia, at one time locking all the doors in their flat overnight

In the five-page diary – which appears to have been written after the events took place – she describes her daily life with Reggie.

She writes: "Reggie came in late every night drunk. Got up every morning, two minutes to dress, left me all day, came back

KISS FROM A KILLER:
The Krays and Frances late at night drunk.

"Went to his house – his brother walked in bedroom in underwear, swore at me."

Frances also reveals the cache of deadly weapons in the couple's bedroom – and the Kray's attempted cover-up after her family was alerted.

She added: "By the side of the bed – gun, sword, knife, chopper, flick-knife. He used to sleep with flick-knife under his pillow."

"I phoned my brother up to get me out of this place and said something about guns."

"His brother (Ronnie) swore at me and started collecting all the guns in a laundry bag."

She then explains how the Krays called a friend at a nearby pub who took the weapons away in fear Frances' brother had called the police.

She continued: "I said something about me looking for a new flat. He said, 'Shut your mouth'."

"He had a rifle by the side of his bed loaded. Locked up every door in the flat before he went to sleep."

Eventually, she talks about her decision to leave Reggie – just weeks into their difficult marriage.

She reveals: "[Reggie] kept telling me I was ill... his brother used to torment me when I went round there."

"Went to pub with him one night – he started moaning and shouting and one of his friends gave us a lift and he was shouting and swearing all the way back."

"Couldn't stand it anymore. Left him."

"When I was packing my suitcases to leave he told me he would bring up fictitious characters against me."

Prison

"[He was] always drunk – slurring and falling all over the place."

A spokesperson from the auction house which sold the diaries, said: "This archive is coming from the estate of Frances Kray."

"Reggie met Frances when she was 16. At first they were pen pals while he was in Wandsworth Prison and the letters were very chatty and friendly."

"They had an unhappy marriage and it appears that someone told Frances to write down incidents while she was trying to divorce Reggie."

"It seems life with him was impossible. She spent most of her time alone in their flat and when he was there he was often drunk and he slept in a bed with various weaponry."

"When he was in prison it was safe for her to have a relationship with him."

"But on the outside, she was way out of her depth and was very frightened of Reggie – as anyone would have been."

"Considering what happened to Frances, it is a very poignant archive."

Meanwhile, upcoming flick The Rise of the Krays follows the early years of Ronnie and Reggie's criminal life.

Starring the brilliant Kevin Leslie and Simon Cotton as the deadly Kray twins, it has already been hailed as "the best British gangster film ever" by critics.

The Rise of the Krays arrives on Blu-ray, DVD and digital platforms on August 31.

Clifford fails to block ex-royal butler's £50,000 privacy claim

DISGRACED PR guru Max Clifford has failed to win a ruling blocking a privacy claim brought against him by former royal butler Paul Burrell.

Clifford, currently serving an eight-year jail sentence for sex offences, has branded Mr Burrell's £50,000 High Court action for breach of confidence and misuse of private information as an "affront to common sense".

Mr Burrell says that he hired Clifford in 2001 to limit bad press coverage about him.

But rather than stopping stories, the publicist passed on material to the now-defunct News Of The World.

Clifford's case is that their agreement was for him to sell information to a newspaper and the fax was a "teaser".

Last month, Clifford's counsel, Lorna Skinner, told Mr Justice Mann in London that the case was brought outside the legal time limit and would be a waste of court resources.

But the judge refused to strike out the claim.

Clifford so far faces a costs bill for the action – which will be tried in January if it does not settle – of around £28,000.

Woman so drunk that behaviour was 'disgusting'

A WOMAN has been given a suspended jail sentence after breaching an order barring her from having late-night visitors.

Yvonne Baillie was given a suspended eight-week prison term after a civil court was told that she "had a man in the property".

She had been "so drunk" that a neighbour described her behaviour as "disgusting".

Judge Martin Davis said an order had been made earlier this year aimed at regulating Baillie's "alcohol-fuelled misbehaviour".

Baillie had admitted breaching the order.

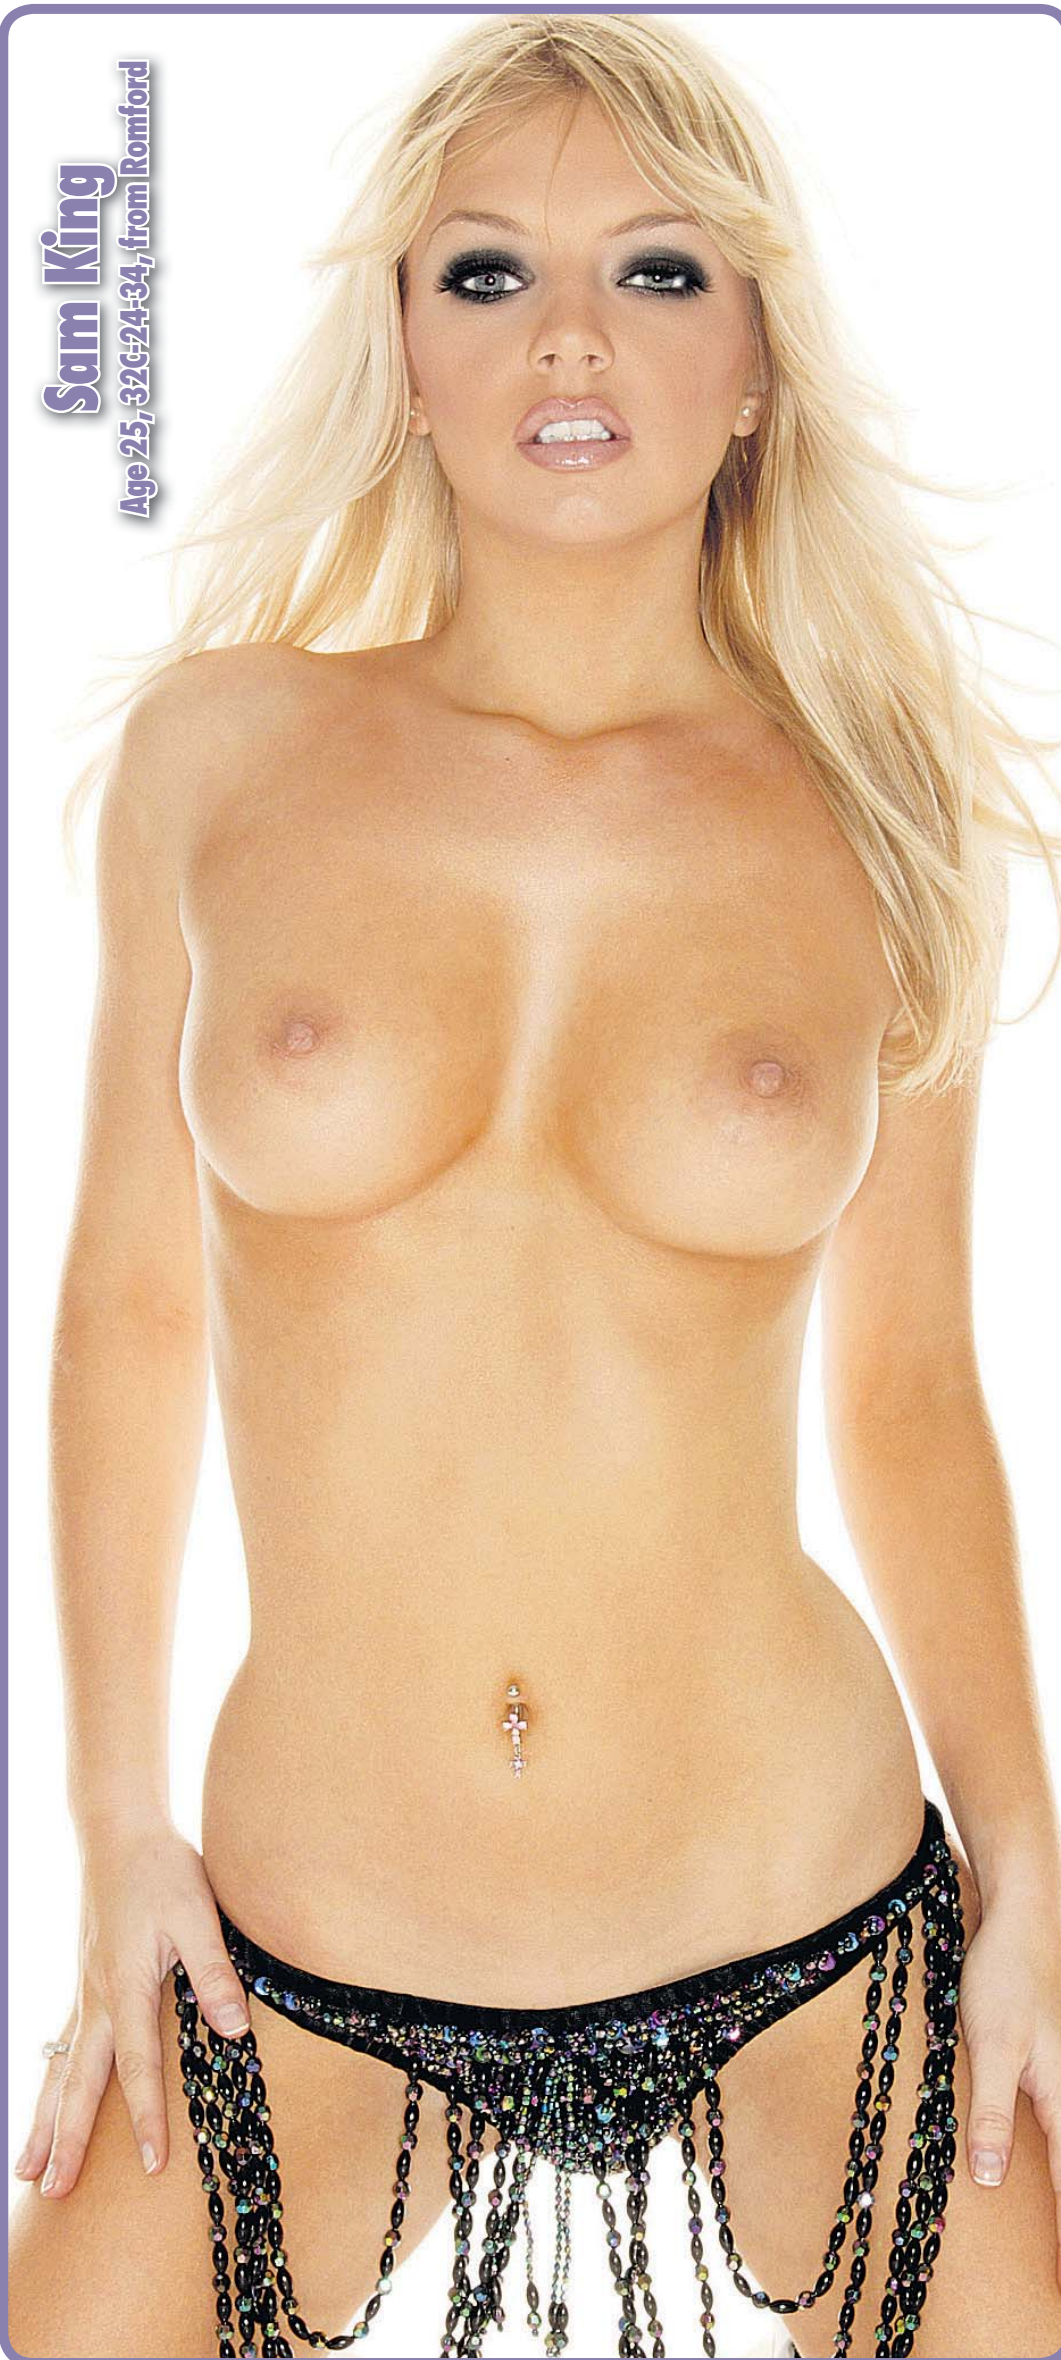

But she suggested that she was confused by the order and asked: "What do I do if people come to my door?"

The judge told her that she should "not let them in" and "call the police".

He did not say where Baillie lived – although he indicated that her home was owned by a housing association.

LESBIAN LOVER BEATEN UP WITH DILDO!

By BARNEY SAMUELS news@sundaysport.co.uk

A LESBIAN has been arrested for battering her female lover with a huge SEX TOY.

The pair were fighting over who would get to keep a dress as they split their possessions during a break-up.

Annette Kielhurn, 57, and Gamze Capaner-Ridley, 47, had fought the day before – and the younger woman asked a cop to be present while she moved out.

Officer Eric Blomgren watched while the women tussled over possession of a dress before intervening.

He told Kielhurn not to touch Miss Capaner-Ridley – but she pulled out a dildo and slapped her in the face with it.

Grabbed

In his report, the officer wrote: "The defendant intentionally shoved a 'dildo' in the victim's face and grabbed her right arm while arguing whose it belonged to."

As a result, the cop arrested Kielhurn for domestic battery.

An arrest affidavit does not indicate whether the dildo was seized as evidence.

A St Petersburg, Florida, police insider said: "This has been the talk of the station. Forget assault and battery, this is assault and battery powered!" Kielhurn – who has Capaner-Ridley's first name tattooed on her chest – once served three years in prison for narcotics trafficking.

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

I'M delighted to hear Peter Andre has married his long-term girlfriend Emily MacDonagh.

My first thought was, 'What magazine will get the exclusive rights, then?'

Only kidding, of course. I'm really happy for them both.

Fortunately, his ex-wife Katie Price didn't try to ruin things by posting something on Twitter – like she did with Joe Hart's wedding recently.

I actually saw Peter and Emily at an airport recently. They looked like two teenagers in love, it was really sweet.

Emily is really young looking up close – and very tall. She's even taller than Peter!

I wish them both all the happiness in the world, because they deserve it. I've always liked Peter Andre – he's got a lovely heart and strong family values.

MY favourite reality show Ex On The Beach returns for a third series next month – and I'm proper excited!

I've watched every episode so far and think it's such a great concept. There's always LOTS of drama and sex!

And I just love the look on the contestants' faces when their crazy ex walks out of the ocean! You just know straight away there's going to be trouble.

Still, I was surprised to see Vicky Pattison – who appeared as a celebrity guest in the first series – back again.

But she's guaranteed to kick up a storm. Vicky (right) is really feisty and great entertainment! But I reckon MTV should do a proper Celebrity Ex On The Beach – with major A-list stars.

Now that would be cracking telly!

At the moment it's just Z-list wannabes and the occasional Geordie Shore star.

My dream line-up would be Scott Disick and Kourtney Kardashian, Kelly Brook and Danny Cipriani... and Caroline Flack and Harry Styles!

Now, I doubt any of them would actually agree to it – but wouldn't it be brilliant?

I'd definitely pay good money to see that!

THE Government has called for talent show The Voice to be AXED from the BBC – and I agree 100 per cent.

Culture Secretary John Whittingdale claims that the Beeb shouldn't try to compete with commercial rivals – such as ITV, who have The X Factor and Britain's Got Talent.

Channels like ITV get funding from advertising and phone-ins, which means they can afford to make shows purely for entertainment's sake.

The BBC has a duty to deliver top-quality programming. After all, we're paying for it!

In my opinion, the BBC needs more educational shows and period dramas.

What's going on behind brave Cheryl's smile?

GRINNING BUT THINNING: Cheryl has lost loads of weight

POOR Cheryl Fernandez-Versini has been criticised this week for her "dramatic" weight loss.

Normally, I don't pay attention to these body stories, but Cheryl DOES look awfully thin in recent pictures.

It isn't nice to see somebody who used to be a healthy weight getting too skinny.

My first thought is that I hope she's not unwell.

Cheryl claimed she's feeling stressed after her husband's father died, but I'm not sure if I buy that excuse.

In my opinion, when a person is feeling happy they naturally eat better.

You go out to restaurants, eat snacks and munch popcorn on the sofa watching a film.

When someone is unhappy, they don't eat, skip meals and exercise too much.

Fingers crossed that everything is okay in Cheryl's personal life, because she really does deserve happiness.

REMEMBER The X Factor rejects-turned-unlikely lovers Chloe-Jasmine Whichello and Stevi Ritchie?

Well, it looks like they're back in the headlines... and no, Chloe-Jasmine hasn't dumped him.

They're ENGAGED!

I know, who would have guessed it?

During last year's series, Stevi started an affair with 'posh' contestant Chloe-Jasmine – who was still dating with Help For Heroes fundraiser Craig Wiffen.

And surprisingly, their relationship lasted a whole YEAR and now they're getting married!

Speaking on ITV's This Morning last week, Stevi said: "Opposites attract don't they, most of the time?"

Well, considering she's a model and he's, well, not... he must be right!

But I couldn't help thinking, are they REALLY a couple?

I'm sorry, but this looks like a publicity stunt to me.

Let's face it, these two haven't been in the newspapers all year – and they haven't released any music either.

But now they're back in the headlines, they're selling stories to newspapers and getting paid to appear on TV.

Doesn't it all seem a bit... dodgy?

Let's just wait and see how long it lasts, eh?

Nuns take Katy home fight to Pope

A GROUP of nuns have turned to the POPE to save them from pop babe Katy Perry.

The Firework singer is keen to buy the convent run by the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and convert it into a home.

But the brides of Christ are appalled at the idea of selling their £9m Los Angeles gaff to the 30-year-old.

So they've turned to the Vatican and asked Pope Francis to get involved.

Sister Rita said: "I hope Pope Francis has been seeing this, because if anybody can help us, it's him."

"I think he'll stop this nonsense, I really do."

The sisters instead want to sell the home to US restaurant tycoon Dana Hollister, who has put in an offer to turn the building into a hotel.

But they are locked in a feud with LA archbishop Jose Gomez, who claims the building is his to sell and not theirs.

He told the Sisters he wants Katy to move in.

P-p-pick up a swim lesson!

A BABY penguin is so terrified of water she is having swimming lessons.

Zookeepers are desperately trying to help the flightless bird, called Charlotte, tackle her fear.

Head keeper Alistair Keen even donned a snorkel and got in with the flightless bird to show her how it was done.

But the penguin is so scared that whenever she is carried into the water she tries to take off.

The king penguin hatched at Birdland Park & Gardens in Bourton-on-the-Water, Gloucs, and has been hand-reared since.

Mr Keen said: "In the wild the chicks only learn to swim by following their parents in to the water so as her adopted dad, I got in and showed her how it was done."

Birdland is the only place in England to breed king penguins.

Jess staying on TOWIE – with smaller boobs!

BUSTY Jess Wright says she will NOT be leaving TOWIE – but audiences can say goodbye to her massive fake boobs.

The brunette was rumoured to be leaving the hit reality programme to pursue other TV projects.

But the 29-year-old, who has been on the show for five years, has rejected talk that this year's series will be her last.

Jess insists she is happy with her part on the ITV series, but revealed that she is in talks to have her 32DD sweater stretchers reduced.

She said: "I'm happy at the minute with things and how they're going."

"If something was to come up that would take me away from TOWIE, then who knows."

"But at the minute, there's not."

She added: "I regret having boobs this big – they are too big and it guts me."

"I've actually gone for a reduction consultation."

The star is also about to become a published author after signing a three novel book deal.

Her first tale – about a budding shoe designer making her way in the world of celebrity – is due out later this month.

Woman watches TV while driving!

A WOMAN was filmed watching Masterchef at the wheel of a car!

The driver was recorded on the A127 in Essex as she appeared to be watching the hit BBC show on a tablet device mounted to the car windscreen.

Professional driver Luke Page, from Southend, said he was sitting in traffic while filming the woman, which he then posted on the internet.

He recorded a commentary of what he was filming, saying: "She has got two pieces of technology attached to the front of her car – a phone and a tablet – and she's currently watching TV while she's driving."

Heated

He then gets out of the car and confronts the woman, asking: "Are you watching TV?"

The woman replies: "No."

During the heated exchange, viewers can see the show on the tablet's screen.

Mr Page then says to the woman: "It looks like you're watching TV. You know that's illegal, don't you?"

As the woman winds her window up, Mr Page tells her: "Well done. You're going on Facebook."

After posting the video, he added: "Couldn't believe it. Didn't really know what to say lol."

Accused of breaking the law himself by filming, he said: "Oh yeah man I know I'm breaking the law too."

"Although I'm pretty much in standing traffic. Her TV will still be on when she's doing 70mph."

Springwatch Martin slams Attenborough

SPRINGWATCH host Martin Hughes-Games reckons TV legend David Attenborough has actually made things WORSE for endangered animals.

He reckons the big budget telly shows like Life on Earth make people forget how much threat animals are in because they gloss over it.

He said: "It's been our fond dream for the last 40 years that by making people aware of the natural world we would encourage conservation."

"But a report last year from the WWF and the Zoological Society of London clearly showed that we had lost 50 per cent of the world's wildlife in the last 40 years, which exactly coincides with epic and magnificent wildlife programmes like Life on Earth."

"What we have done is like a drug – it's like cocaine. People love these wonderful, utopian, escapist programmes where you can just disappear into a world untouched by humanity, ignoring the reality."

"We have failed to deal with that reality of what is really going on out there."

AS the debate over the European Union rages on, here are a few good reasons to stick around!

Crime drama Crossing Lines, starring William Fichtner, continues Wednesday night at 8pm on Alibi.

The show follows a specialist police unit run by the International Criminal Court (ICC), which tackles the explosion of crime that accompanied the opening of Europe's borders.

In the latest episode, the search for a cross-border serial killer is interrupted when a member of the ICC is abducted.

Meanwhile, we can EXCLUSIVELY reveal the female cast members sizzling TOPLESS secrets!

Italian actress Gabriella Pession, 37, plays Eva Vittoria, a covert ops agent born into a wealthy Mafia family.

And she flashed her perky BOOBS in 1999 comedy flick Ferdinando and Carolina.

Slippery

Klara Issova, 36, from Prague, stars as carnival worker Shari and girlfriend of ex-NYPD detective Carl Hickman (Fichtner).

And fans will remember Klara whipped 'em out in Transporter: The Series back in 2012.

French beauty Moon Dailly, 34 – human trafficking expert Anne-Marie San in the show – also stripped off in an episode of The Transporter.

And finally, Lost star Elizabeth Mitchell, 45, plays investigator Carine Strand.

She displayed her whoppin' pair during a slippery LESBIAN scene in 1998 made-for-TV film Gia, starring Angelina Jolie.

Miss caught in car 'romp' with pupil

A TEACHER who was caught STRADDLING a teen pupil in her car has been arrested.

Katie Cross (above) was found with her skirt hitched up over the lap of a 17-year-old.

A neighbour spotted the English tutor's vehicle parked outside his house and called the police.

When officers arrived the 31-year-old admitted the boy was one of her pupils and she was arrested.

The lad later told cops he had been with Cross in her black Hyundai previously and said they "kissed passionately" in her classroom several times before school started.

Cross was suspended from Collegium High School in Chester County, Pennsylvania, after her arrest.

She has been charged with institutional sexual assault, unlawful contact with a minor, corruption of minors and endangering the welfare of children.

The victim told investigators the two have had a physical relationship since February.

Who shagged the Sharif?

Amanda: My panic attacks on TV eased with Scotch!

NERVOUS Amanda Seyfried told how she gets TROLLIED on whisky during TV chat shows.

The 29-year-old actress (above) may have stripped down in porn biopic Lovelace, about 70s pornstar Linda Lovelace.

But the blonde beauty said she was so scared of appearing on famous US show David Letterman that she sank THREE shots of the hard stuff before hitting the stage.

But she said the plan backfired when the booze went to her head.

The Mean Girls star said the bottle helps her control a nervous condition which triggers severe panic attacks, stopping her from sleeping and leaving her short of breath.

She said: "I looked drunk. I suffer from anxiety attacks. It's an under-discussed condition."

"I wouldn't say it's a mental illness as such, but it can become one."

BIG SCREEN LEGEND:
Omar Sharif

By SAM WALKER samw@sundaysport.co.uk

OMAR SHARIF may have been a Hollywood legend – but in these saucy snaps taken from the silver screen, it's his co-stars who give their breast performance.

The Lawrence Of Arabia actor died on Friday, aged 83, following a heart attack at his home in Cairo.

So we're paying tribute to the great man in the best way we know how – with a compilation of topless pictures showing the Egyptian-born actor's leading ladies baring their best bits.

Our line-up of lovelies includes Julie Andrews in The Tamarind Seed and Julie Christie from Doctor Zhivago, as well as sexy Sophia Loren and French blonde bombshell Catherine Deneuve, who appeared alongside Sharif in 1968 flick Mayerling.

One source said: "He certainly had his fair share of Hollywood minge."

"With this lot in his back catalogue, I'm surprised he didn't suffer from high blood pressure as well!"

Want more sex? Well you aren't the only one...

By JOSEPH SCRIMSHIRE
joseph@sundaysport.co.uk

ARE you getting enough sex? Well, according to a new poll, you're probably not...

A shock poll revealed that the majority of Brits aren't BONKING as often as they'd like to.

Overall, 64 per cent admit they want to get frisky at least "a few times a month".

But only HALF of these people were able to match their expectations.

Meanwhile, just ONE PER CENT claim they have sex every day – compared to 10 per cent who would like to.

The YouGov survey also confirmed that British sexual appetites decline with age.

Overall, 26 per cent of 18 to 24-year-olds claim they shag "a few times a week".

But the same proportion of over-60s admit they NEVER have sex.

Horny

The poll of 1,523 people also showed that men want sex more frequently than women.

The majority of blokes want sex at least a couple of times a week compared to just ONE-THIRD of females.

But Midweek Sport stunna Alice Spencer, 23, reckons she's part of the lucky one per cent – because she's bonking EVERY DAY!

The Hull beauty said: "I'm surprised so few girls are having sex on a daily basis. I think they should put in more effort!"

"Me and my boyfriend are literally always horny. The sex feels amazing, so why not do it every day?"

"I feel sorry for guys who are stuck with a low sex-drive partner."

"I definitely wouldn't be able to cope."

LUSCIOUS Lexi Lowe has lifted the lid on her TABOO group sex fantasy!

The self-confessed nympho, 26, says she's desperate for an ORGY with a bunch of horny blokes.

And Lexi, from Newport, South Wales, reckons that GANGBANGS are her ultimate X-rated thrill!

She revealed: "I guess you could say I get bored easily by 'vanilla' sex. I've always liked to experiment.

“At the top of my list of sexual fantasies is definitely having rough sex with a group of guys.

"Of course, it wouldn't be a spur of the moment thing with random blokes.

"I would arrange for everything that would happen beforehand – I would be 100 per cent in control.

"Ideally, it would take place in a warehouse somewhere and I'd be tied up and blindfolded.

"Then, these guys suddenly appear and start putting their hands all over my body, tearing my clothes and knickers off.

"I have no idea how many men there are because I can't see anything.

"Eventually they all have their wicked way with me.

"There's something so sexy about just letting go while these guys are pleasuring me.

Submissive

"Of course, I know what's going to happen as I've arranged the whole thing, but it's still really exciting."

"I'm actually feeling HORNY just thinking about it!"

Lexi, a former police worker, is also a hardcore PORN STAR – and appeared in top grumble flick Down On Abbey: Tales of Bottomley Manor.

The 32F beauty also enjoys making explicit BONDAGE flicks, where she's bound and gagged during submissive sex sessions.

She added: "I do like it quite rough. I like to be dominated, thrown around a little bit."

"And I'm greedy – I love to climax over and over again.

"Last year, I did my first ever anal scene – with THREE guys!

"It's something I hardly ever do in my private life.

"I enjoy it sometimes but I have to be in the mood and it has to be done right."

Gym hunk fell into my big booby trap

Dear Nickie,

MY enormous 36DD breasts have opened lots of doors for me.

As an 18-year-old university student I've found that even the most hardened geek crumbles at the sight of them struggling to force their way out of the tight tops I always wear.

They start drooling the moment I enter the college bar and I make it my business to pull as many as I can.

Recently I have been going to the gym on campus and I've built up quite a following among the rugby playing hunks who hang out there.

One day I went with my pals and all the guys lifting weights were ogling me. I noticed one in particular had got a tremendous hard-on.

It was all I could do to stop myself going and grabbing his manhood there and then.

The fella was one of the rugby crowd, and although his ears had taken a bit of a hammering he was well sexy with really big muscles.

Sucking

When my pals had left, it was just me and the hunk left in the gym.

I was moist, steamy and well up for a shag, so I went up to him with my boobs bursting out of my top and invited him to the showers.

We locked the door behind us and he let my top down. My boobs sprang out and he started sucking on them.

Slipping off his shorts and jock-strap, I wrapped his solid cock in the ample folds of my boobs.

I gave him a slow, sensuous tit-wank until I could feel the pressure building up as his sack tightened.

By this time my pussy was dripping wet with love juices and I whispered that I wanted him to f**k me senseless.

He turned me round and spread my legs roughly as I leaned over a bench and then entered me like a steam train.

I've had so much fun thanks to my boobs, I'm wondering if I should have them made even bigger.

What do you think?

PN, London

Nickie says...

WHY waste the money? Sounds like you're having a great time with the ones you've got.

Letter of the day

Dear Nickie,

I'VE been married to my missus for five years and I've just discovered a shocking secret she's been keeping from me.

She suddenly told me last week that she's bisexual and wants us to have a threesome with another woman.

Now I know most blokes would give up a left bollock to be in my position, but I'm not sure I want to go down this road again.

You see, I've tried it before – and although it was a great experience, it ended up backfiring on me.

My ex-girlfriend ended up taking a fancy to the other bird and dumped me to move in with her.

I'm worried that the same thing could happen again if I agree to fulfilling my wife's fantasy.

Any advice?

PK, Glasgow

Nickie says...

YEAH, video it, and even if you do end up getting dumped again, at least you've got something to put in the wank bank.

Three 'n filthy!

Dear Nickie,

RECENTLY my husband sprang a surprise by arranging a threesome for us.

At first I said no to having another stud with us, but he persuaded me by saying he wanted to try double penetration.

When the day arrived, I was astounded to see he'd brought home a red-headed female.

He said he'd been joking about the stud – but seemed to think that made it okay for him to shag the girl.

I was very upset and refused to join in. But his moans lured me upstairs, where she was on her knees giving him a gobble.

I thought I'd teach them a lesson and shoved a dildo up her.

After that, things got filthy. Now my hubby wants to do it again.

What should I do?

KL, Kent

Nickie says...

JUST go with the flow.

Dear Nickie,

THE other day I was in the shed on my allotment, tossing myself off over a wonderful spread of Louise Banks in my Daily Sport.

Just as I was getting to the vinegar strokes I heard a knock and then the shocked face of the wife of the bloke who has the next allotment appeared at the window.

I quickly pulled my pants up and went out to explain that as a lonely widower all I could rely on was my copy of the Sport.

She said, "Aww, I understand love, do you want a suck? My hubby's gone to B&Q for a bag of manure".

Well, I've never looked a gift horse in the mouth and the next thing I was sitting on a stool in the shed with her sucking my member until I spurted.

She then wiped her gob and left, but I'm sure he suspects something.

What do you think?

TJ, Humberside

Nickie says...

IT'S his own fault for marrying a hoe!

Dear Nickie,

I WAS out with Scooby (my spaniel) in the park when I passed this blonde of about 22 walking her terrier.

Scooby got a bit randy and started sniffing her dog's arse, so we started a chat about our naughty pets.

Then out of the blue, she said she hadn't had a man for ages and asked me back to hers for a shag.

I was well up for it and couldn't get back to her place quick enough, where we headed for the bedroom.

But the trouble is I couldn't come because her dog was sat there watching from the end of the bed.

I like her a lot, but now I fear she thinks I'm impotent.

What can I do?

RH, Lancs

Nickie says...

SHE sounds a bit ruff to me.

WHY WOMEN WILL NEVER TELL WHOLE TRUTH ABOUT SEX

By SAM WALKER

samw@sundaysport.co.uk

WOMEN are more likely to LIE about the number of blokes they've bedded, an exciting new sex poll has revealed.

A study showed that 27 per cent of girls fibbed to new partners over their bedroom antics, compared to only a quarter of men.

And nearly 90% of those actually REDUCED their bedpost notches.

But almost a third of all men added fake shags to their conquest list – to impress the new lady in their lives.

The survey of 6,000 people was carried out by top sex toy retailer Lovehoney.

Chemistry

A spokesman said: "All our research shows that the happiest couples are those who are open and honest with each other – particularly in the bedroom."

"A significant number of men and woman do tell white lies about their sexual pasts."

The study also showed that personality is the most attractive trait a woman looks for when she is on the hunt for her next partner, followed by a sense of humour, sexual chemistry and appearance.

But only 4% of women said they look for an intelligent man while 1% rank a man's job as the most thing in a boyfriend.

So ditch the books, fellas, and hit the gym!

THE MOST IMPORTANT THINGS WOMEN LOOK FOR IN A NEW PARTNER

BOOKIE BASHER

OUR SPORTS BETTING GURU WILL PUT YOU ON A WINNER!

A GOOD walk ruined, according to Mark Twain.

And those of us who have struggled to put the long sticky bat thing to ball are prone to agree.

But you cannot deny golf these days afford those of us who like to put their money down (got to stop these musical metaphors, thanks Sonny and Cher, for Gypsies, Tramps and Thieves) Rory McIlroy's injury and Jordan Spieth's late arrival add to the betting hell-hole that is the 2015 Open Championship.

Yet with all of the focus on those two stars, plenty of intriguing characters figure to stand a chance of winning at St Andrews.

McIlroy elbowed, it has to be Spieth. We hate tipping faves but, come on, 6/1 generally isn't bad.

Golf is one of the few sports on the planet where form holds true.

Yet with all of the focus on those two top-dogs, plenty of brilliant golfers stand a chance of winning at St Andrews.

The winner will be difficult

Garcia and Spieth the boys to be on to find and could come from a long way down the betting lists.

Louis Oosthuizen was the runaway Open winner in 2010 at the same ruined walk.

He is coming off a second place finish in the U.S. Open and seems to be physically on top of his game.

He won't have the same cadence this time around but has no shortage of game and comfort level on a course that makes many feel so awkward.

It's the midges, you see, they are everywhere in a Scottish summer.

Yet he has to be somewhere near your betting slip

Emotionally, I think most of us would love to see Sergio Garcia succeed.

But while age and form are slightly against him plenty of golf fans will be willing him on to defy the odds.

When one of the 'experts' down the pub asked me what price he was I guessed 20s. But no, he is actually 40/1.

Surely that is too big?

We would not wage our daughters' virtue on the prospect of him winning but with most firms offering a quarter of the odds for a top-five finish you are getting around 8/1 for Garcia being in the hunt at the last knockings.

It's about 15 years since the ever-charming Spanish prodigy hopped, skipped and jumped along the 16th fairway at Medinah en route to finishing runner-up behind Tiger Woods in the PGA Championship.

It made magical telly, and it remains perhaps the most endearing moment of a controversial career, one in which a lot has gone wrong, notwithstanding the 22 wins around the globe and the six Ryder Cup appearances for Europe.

As ever with golf there are plenty of outsiders who may or may not tempt you to blow cobwebs off the wallet.

Phil Mickelson pokes your eye out at a best 28/1.

Okay, his form may have dipped but he remains a formidable opponent at a course that

And even Tiger Woods, remember him?

Go out on a limb and you can back him at 33/1 or you could believe the common chain of thought that the big cat has turned into a pussycat.

Either way, over 8/1 for a top five finish has a whiff of value.

But no, we will console ourselves with just two bets which, to be honest, for entertainment throughout the weekend is worth the trip down to the bookies.

BETS: Spieth to win the Open (6/1) Garcia each-way (40/1).

ENGLAND CAN LORD IT AGAIN OVER AUSSIES

LOVELY to see our boys Urrn a little bit of credit for what was an outstanding, against-the-odds, success in the first fling of this summer's Ashes.

We didn't just beat the convicts, we humiliated them. Be fair, to start a two-horse race as clear outsiders and put the auld enemy to the sword with a day to spare, allowing the lads an extra day gracing a sun lounger, is pretty damn good.

On the scant evidence of one game of cricket, the Aussie attack spearhead, Mitchell Starc, is key to their chances.

But with the best will in the world, despite skipper Michael Clarke's protestations to the contrary, the left-armer looks anchored by his injured right ankle.

Starc was the standout bowler for the tourists during their 169-run defeat in the first Test in Cardiff, taking seven wickets, but showed visible signs of discomfort.

Starc has been able to continue bowling with this week's problem, bone spurs, in the past — growths that develop with impact on the joint — playing two Tests in 2013 before surgery that saw him out for two-and-a-half months.

With that in mind we have to find a betting angle centred around England.

Our boys are 2/1 to land the second test and that has to be a steal. The way they destroyed the Aussies at Cardiff leads you to believe nothing has changed in the space of a week.

In the bookies favour, the weather forecast is mixed but even so ... how many Tests go the whole five days in the modern era?

BET: England at 2/1.

Trigger to fire in Classic final

AFTER an exciting burst of semi-finals on Saturday night, Conna Trigger has emerged as the 13-8 favourite for Wednesday's £25,000 William Hill Classic Final at Sunderland.

Conna Trigger is trained by locally-based Kelly Macari and was an all-the-way winner of the third semi-final. Unfortunately, 2013 winner Pinpoint Maxi didn't make it through to the final after picking up an injury.

For the bookies, one of the outsiders for the Final, Bubbly Ninja is the worst result after being well-backed at the start of the competition.

In the £15,000 William Hill Grand Prix, the 9-4 favourite Toottootootsie is the biggest potential payout for the sponsors.

Elsewhere in the supporting races, Walshes Hill is the odds-on favourite for the William Hill Festival Flyer and Droopys Buick leads a talented group of youngsters in the William Hill Puppy Plate.

It all means there are a brilliant set of Finals for Wednesday night and the sponsors are looking forward to the action.

"The scene is set for an action-packed night of greyhound racing and with the home crowd cheering on the local dogs it should make for a brilliant atmosphere," said William Hill spokesman Jon Ivan-Duke.

SUNDERLAND FINALS TONIGHT ON SKY SPORTS

OPEN GOLF STARTS TOMORROW LIVE ON BBC

TIGER ON THE PROWL

Legend says he CAN win it at St Andrews

By ANDY MILLOM

TIGER Woods reckons he can turn back the clock and win his 15th Major title at St Andrews this weekend.

The American, who's better known for his shagging antics than his golf these days, hasn't won a big event since the US Open in 2008.

But he says he's coming to his favourite course with his game getting back to something like its best.

Tiger won at St Andrews in 2000 and 2005 so heads north with some justifiable confidence.

The 39-year-old has been on a roller-coaster with his form in recent weeks.

First, he shot the WORST round of his entire career with a 13-over 85 in Ohio.

And he didn't do a lot better in missing the cut at the US Open just afterwards.

But he bounced back to record the BEST round of the season earlier this month.

So will the real Tiger show up in Scotland? He certainly thinks so and is confident of a big showing.

Woods said: "It's my favourite golf course in the world.

Split

"I love coming back here and seeing it and remembering all the shots and remembering all the good times I've had here.

"The creativity that it takes and the discipline — people don't realise how much you need to shape the ball and the discipline it takes to play this course.

"I could win it, absolutely."

Woods says golf fans don't realise that his troubles have been down to injury as much as what's been going on off the course.

He's just split with girlfriend of two years, Lindsey Vonn. If Tiger's found a fitter woman than her to hang about with then good luck to him but splitting with such first-class totty must take its toll.

But Woods won't have any of

that and says now he's fit he'll get his game back on track.

He added: "My body's finally good. I'm just not as wiry and as whippy as I used to be. And being 39 versus 19 is totally different.

"If you're making changes you have to take a couple of steps backwards before you make the giant leap forward.

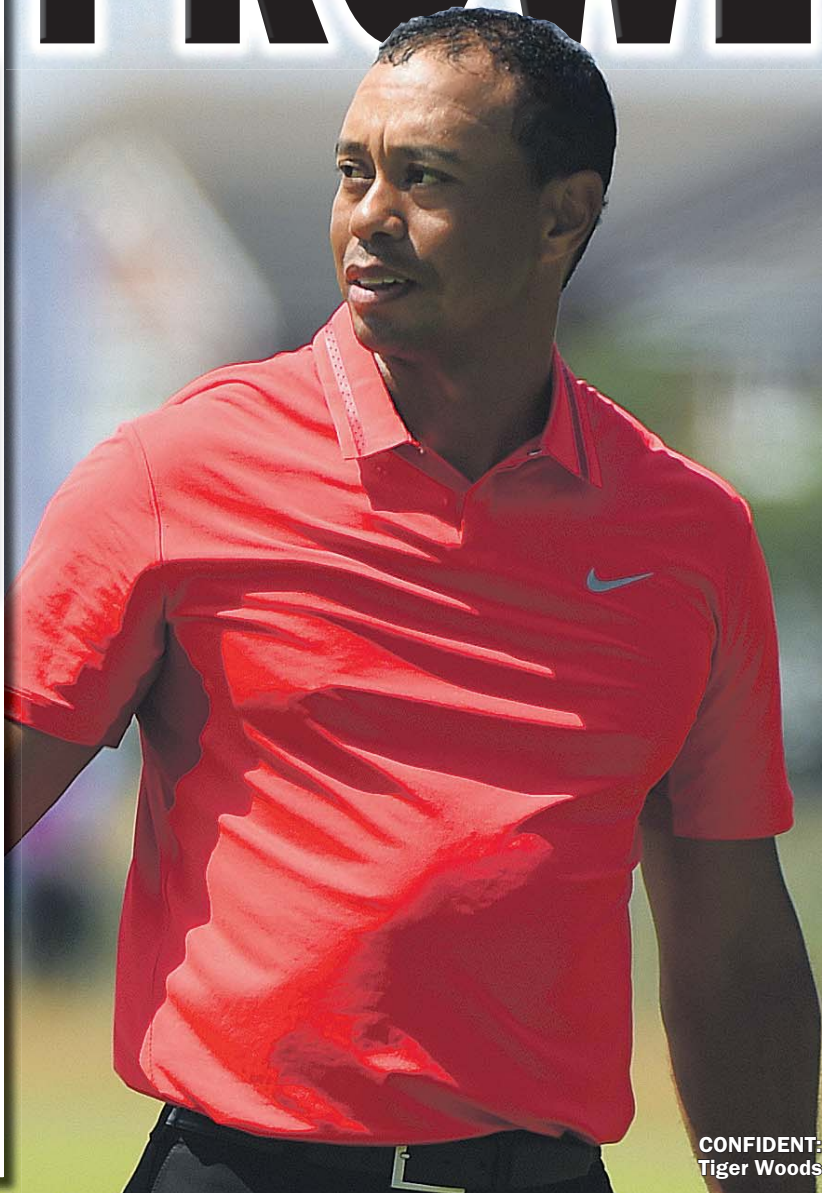

"If you look throughout my career when I've made swing changes I've gone through that suffering period and I've come out pretty good on the other side.

"I wouldn't say I've found the solution. It's a process, an evolution, making subtle shifts, fine tuning and getting the overall pattern different, and that takes time.

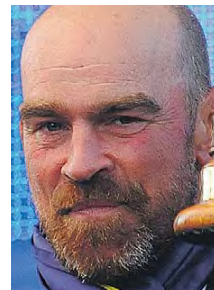

"I'm starting to feel like I'm getting more consistent.

"I know I'm heading in the right direction.

"It's going to take a tremendous amount of work and a lot of patience but I'll get there eventually."

SPIETH GUNS FOR TOP SPOT

By PETE BAILEY

JORDAN Spieth could cash in on Rory McIlroy's injury and hit world number one at St Andrews.

The Texan sensation has already bagged the US Masters and US Open and has his eyes on a Major Grand Slam.

Now he can overtake the crooked Northern Irishman but if he WINS the Open this weekend.

The world rankings have been around for just under 30 years and only 17 players have held that honour.

Tiger Woods is the longest serving number one with 683 weeks with Greg Norman second on 331. Nick Faldo is the Brit who has held the crown for most weeks with 97, unless Rory McIlroy hangs on for another couple of months.

But Spieth fancies adding his name to that roll call of the game's modern greats.

He said: "I've certainly played solid enough to be No. 1 in the world a lot of different years.

"It's a tough position this year given how successful Rory is, but I just need to keep working as hard as I have been and focus on this week and next week and a strong finish for the season because there's a lot of world rankings points in all of the events coming up."

McIlroy needs to get back on the course to protect his lead.

Some players who have had the same knee injury predict it will take him a couple of months to get fully back on his feet.

Nick Faldo is one of the many voices who think it might be a long time until he's anything like his best.

The 1990 St Andrews winner said: "The problem is if you injure yourself can they repair it exactly the same as it was?

"That is why I never skied because I saw a guy put his thumb around the other side of his forearm.

"He has to wait until it is 100 per cent better before he can start doing anything and start practising on it.

"That takes discipline."

But McIlroy has been putting a brave face on things. He said: "I'm very disappointed to be missing the Open Championship.

"But I won't be back until I am 100% healthy and 100% competitive."

RISEING STAR: Spieth

BIG PRICE:
Paul Casey

CASEY LOOKS OPEN AND SHUT

THE Open Championship begins at St Andrews on Thursday and Jordan Spieth is the 6/1 favourite to add the Claret Jug to his wins in the Masters and US Open earlier in the year.

Spieth maintained his run of form when winning the John Deere Classic Stateside last week-end coming from four down with six to play to force a play-off which he won on the second extra hole.

Six of the last seven winners of the Open Championship played in the Scottish Open the previous week and Players' Champion Rickie Fowler had his odds slashed from 25s to 16s at BetVictor when winning his first European Tour event at the Gullane golf club on Sunday.

Many have suggested that Spieth missed a trick in playing in the States last week and that he would have been best served playing or practising on a links course, but he should be applauded for staying loyal to a tournament that gave him his first success back in 2013.

Having followed Fowler for a couple of years I am delighted that his golf is getting its just rewards but at 16/1 is he now too short for the Open?

Remember Phil Mickelson backed up his Scottish Open win two years ago with the Open Title so the Scottish/Open Championship double can be done.

BetVictor are paying six places on the tournament and are paying out as winners' ties for the top five, top ten and top 20.

My two against the field are Paul Casey 33/1 outright and 5/1 top Englishman at BetVictor and the 2010 Champion Louis Oosthuizen at 22/1.

The latter ran away with the tournament the last time it was held at the home of golf and finished runner up in the US Open last month.

If you are discussing St Andrews you must mention the 2000 and 2005 Champ Tiger Woods who is down to 28/1; can Woods turn back the clock at a course that clearly suits?

It would be a comeback of Lazarus-like proportions but the 14-time Major winner did put together three sub 70 rounds in the Greenbrier Classic in his last event and he insisted his game was "heading in the right direction" earlier in the week.

Woods last won the Open in 2006 and he will tee up in the first two rounds with Australian Jason Day and Oosthuizen beginning at 9.55 on Thursday. Spieth is paired with Dustin Johnson (12/1) and Hideki Matsuyama.

DJ should have won a Major by now and I know many good judges who feel this is his week.

I'm not convinced and, after his last hole meltdown in the US Open last month, he will do well to contend again.

Brandt Snedeker has already tweeted about what an honour it will be for him to play with Tom Watson and Ernie Els and the former has been given an exemption to extend his 40-year Open career through to the 144th Championship at St Andrews.

Let's hope the five-time Open Champ makes it through to the weekend and remember he has made the cut three times since he lost a play-off to Stewart Cink at Turnberry back in 2009 when just shy of his 60th birthday. Now that is a sporting legend. Watson is 9/4 to make the cut at BetVictor (1/3 he doesn't) and that looks too big.

The Cobra calls time on career

BOXING

FOUR-TIME World Super Middleweight champion Carl Froch has announced he is retiring from boxing and will join Sky Sports.

The Cobra has brought down the curtain on a sensational career during which he twice won the WBC title, as well as the WBA and IBF belts. In 35 fights, Carl was the victor in 33 with 24 by knock out.

His final fight was his most memorable, defeating arch-rival George Groves in a rematch in front of 80,000 at Wembley Stadium.

Froch will now join Adam Smith, Johnny Nelson and other expert analysts as part of Sky Sports' boxing coverage.

Fight fans can enjoy up to 120 fight nights over the next six years on Sky Sports including coverage of Anthony Joshua MBE, James DeGale MBE, Kell Brook and Scott Quigg.

Froch said: "I'm incredibly proud of what I have achieved in boxing but now is the right moment to hang up my gloves.

"I have nothing left to prove and my legacy speaks for itself.

"If I could fight again physically I would, but mentally I'm not sure. I think the desire has gone.

"There will always be options and it's never going to stop. There's always going to be somebody next in line or ready to try to take my scalp.

"And if that's never going to go away, at what point do you say, 'Right, now is the time to retire', based on challengers and opponents?

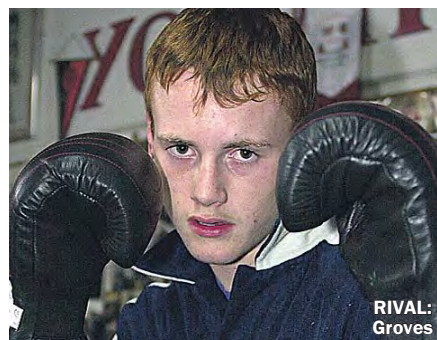

"You can't wait for that, it's got to be from within here, and as much as it hurts, and as hard as it is for me, and even making the decision to retire and saying it's been a year, it's too long, the fighting machine has gone, it's not going to come back, it's still hard."

And now Froch is looking forward to using his legendary gob on the telly rather than to wind up his opponents.

He added: "Sky Sports is the home of boxing and has followed me throughout my career.

"I can't wait to join the team and help bring fans the best fighters, the best contests and the best analysis.

"Nothing can replace the thrill of stepping into the ring, but with Sky Sports I'll be doing the next best thing."

OUT: Michu

No future at Swans for crock Michu

MICHU will NEVER play for Swansea again.

That's the verdict of Swans boss Garry Monk who is trying to offload the striker.

It's an amazing fall from grace for the Spaniard who was red-hot in his first season in the Premier League.

He cost just £2million from Rayo Vallecano but could have gone for 10 times that after banging in 22 goals in 2012-13.

He's 29 now and has had his career wrecked by injury meaning he's scored just six in his past 25 appearances for the Welsh lads.

He was farmed out to Napoli last season but had a nightmare there with injuries striking again as he didn't score a SINGLE goal all campaign.

And that means Monk is stuck with a player he can't play and can't really get rid of. He's gone one step further and said he isn't even in the first-team squad any more despite having 12 months left on his contract.

Monk said: "He won't be with the squad this year."

"I spoke to him at this point last season, he wanted to go and felt that was right for him and I was happy to support him in that decision."

"I now think we have kind of moved on as a squad. We had a big transition last year."

Michu has fallen even further down the pecking order with the arrival of Andre Ayew and Brazil star Eder.

Monk wishes Michu well and will let him move back to his former club for free to get him off Swansea's books.

He added: "I think Michu would like to try to move somewhere else."

"That's the impression I get, although I haven't had that conversation with him."

"I've left it to the chairman Huw Edwards to sort it out."

DEAL DONE: Sterling is a City player while Milner (inset) is happy to get away

Hospital pass

STERLING HAS MEDICAL TO CLINCH CITY SWITCH

RAHEEM Sterling has passed his medical and finalised his move to Man City.

The 20-year-old spent much of yesterday getting a proper once over in a Manchester hospital.

Maybe it took so long because the doctors needed to check his arms were strong enough to carry all the cash he's about to earn.

The total deal is worth more than £100million over four years — half in the transfer fee and rest in Sterling's amazing £200,000 A WEEK wages.

Now the £49m deal is all

By DAVE BELL

but done, the winger can head off to Australia to join the rest of his team-mates who are on a pre-season tour.

He now becomes the most expensive English player in history and will have a lot to live up to when he pulls on a blue shirt.

Luckily for Sterling, City don't go to Anfield until March so he has time to get the metal helmet out for all the stick he's going to get from the Kop faithful.

There are already police investigations under way thanks to the venom that's been spat his way on social media in the past few weeks.

But that will be nothing to the stick he gets in the flesh and every mistake he makes will be pounced on by fans of every club.

That's down to the fee and the way he and his agent, public enemy number one, acted like toddlers to get the transfer through.

Targets

Getting the Sterling deal done means both clubs can now get on with the rest of their transfer business.

The fee means the Reds have effectively spent nothing this summer despite bringing in six players, while City can now turn their attention to other targets.

Kevin De Bruyne has long been near the top of the City shopping list and the first bid is understood to have gone into his German club Wolfsburg.

The Belgian didn't get much of a chance when at Chelsea but was one of the top players in the Bundesliga last season.

He wouldn't cost that much less than Sterling but could be persuaded to settle for lower wages as the pay in Germany is generally a lot lower. Meanwhile, James

Milner has shed some light on the reasons why he chose to move to Liverpool this summer.

Despite the lack of Champions League football, the England midfielder couldn't wait to get down the M62.

He says he was upset by the lack of game time despite being a fans' favourite.

Milner added: "I thought at times at City I won player of the month and then didn't play for three, four or five games after."

"I feel here at Liverpool if I play well, I'll keep the shirt."

"It's down to me."

RAHEEM WHO? AS REDS MOVE ON

By JOHN ANTHONY

getting carried away with that and, with £49million burning a hole in his pocket, manager Brendan Rodgers will be back into the transfer market for Christian Benteke.

The Aston Villa forward is the only big target left for the Reds who have enough cash to pay his £32m release clause.

They don't want to pay that much but Villa are determined to get every penny they can.

Brummie boss Tim Sherwood is sounding more and more confident that his big striker will stay in the Midlands. He said: "I think he stays with us. I think Liverpool have got six or seven strikers now."

"How many do they need?"

"Christian is a great player and we'd like to keep hold of him."

"If someone matches that buy-out clause then there's nothing we can do about that."

"But until somebody does that he's an Aston Villa player and that's how we want him to stay."

Tottenham are also interested but want to pay no more than £20m and have been scared off by Liverpool's willingness to offer a good deal more than that figure.

Sherwood might need a recount as both Mario Balotelli and Fabio Borini look set for the Anfield exit.

The Reds are hawking Balo around like a second-hand car while fellow Italian Borini is on the verge of a move back home to join Lazio.

The Romans are keen on a player who has actually done quite well when he's been allowed on the pitch.

He was a big hit on loan to Sunderland two seasons ago, but wouldn't make the move north-east permanent when they offered £14m. It's thought the Italians want a loan but the Reds just want rid.

EXPERIENCE: Cech

Cech can teach us the Art of winning

MIKEL ARTETA says the signing of Petr Cech can push Arsenal over the winning line in the Premier League.

The Gunners have been struggling for years to find a keeper good enough to mount a title challenge.

It's no coincidence that they haven't had the Premier League pennant since Jens Lehmann packed his bags way back in 2004.

And midfielder Arteta says bringing in Cech from Chelsea for £11million has given everyone at the Emirates a massive lift.

He said: "Those type of signings give a lift to the whole team."

"He's not just a good goalkeeper. He has experience and ambition. The decision to come here after being a legend at Chelsea was not easy."

"I don't think many of them would do it at his age."

Quality

"He is still hungry and he wants to prove himself at the top again and it's a really good decision for us."

Boss Arsene Wenger agrees with Arteta that the Gunners squad is much stronger now.

And he's not breaking his neck to bring in any more new faces.

Wenger said: "We have already strengthened the squad, but I believe part of the success of the squad is also the level of cohesion."

"I believe we have the quality, and it's now about how much we can be stronger together."

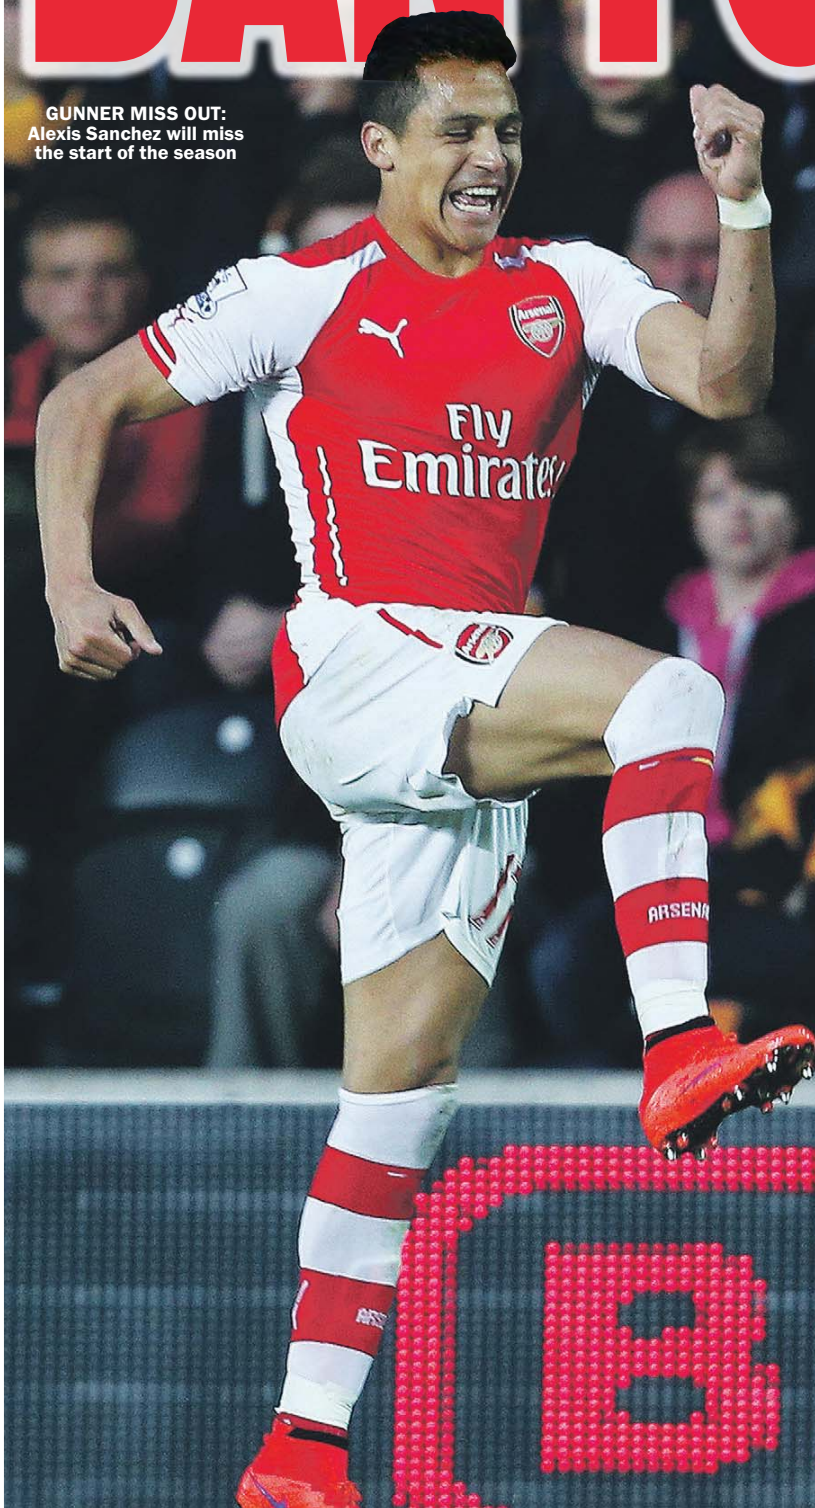

"It's important we find our combination very quickly."

"It is an opportunity to give an opportunity to people on the fringe of the team. It can influence my decisions until the transfer market is over."

ARSENAL STRIKER TO MISS BIG KICK-OFF

BAN FOR SAN

GUNNER MISS OUT:
Alexis Sanchez will miss the start of the season

Wenger orders Alexis to rest up

By MIKE MURRAY

ARSENE WENGER has revealed superstar Alexis Sanchez will miss the first few games of the season.

He will be late returning to training and won't join the rest of the Arsenal squad until August 3.

The 26-year-old played a starring role in Chile's Copa America triumph earlier in the month and Wenger wants to give Sanchez, arguably his star player, a proper summer break.

It means the striker is certain to miss the season-opening Community Shield tie against Chelsea, which takes place on August 2.

He will also miss more than one of the Premier League's opening rounds of fixtures, with Arsenal kicking off with a brace of London derbies at home to West Ham and away to Crystal Palace.

The Chilean wasn't just brilliant last season, he was durable too, playing in more than 50 games.

Wenger was speaking on his side's pre-season tour to Singapore — they take on a Singapore XI this afternoon — when he said: "Sanchez will be back in training on Monday, August 3."

Wenger is fuming that FIFA allowed a Copa just 12 months after the World Cup.

And the Gunners boss is willing to play the waiting game to sign Karim Benzema from Real Madrid.

Arsenal will leave it to the very end of the transfer window for a potential deal to land the forward.

Wenger has identified Benzema as his top target to improve the Gunners' attack and still believes he will end up in north London.

Real Madrid have said that Benzema is not for sale and the 27-year-old is happy in the Spanish capital, but Arsenal are closely monitoring his situation.

The Gunners believe they can clinch a deal for Benzema in a similar way to the £42.5million signing of Mesut Ozil from Real Madrid on the final day of the transfer window in 2013.

There has been speculation in Spain that Cristiano Ronaldo and Gareth Bale have both been pencilled in to play in more central positions by new Real Madrid coach Rafael Benitez.

Benzema is known as a favourite of Madrid president Florentino Perez, but could look to move if he finds himself out of the side in the early part of the season.

Wenger has told those close to him that, if he cannot land Benzema, (left) he is prepared to continue with Olivier Giroud as the club's main striker next season, with Sanchez and Theo Walcott also able to play as central attackers.

Arsenal have also been linked with a move for Napoli forward Gonzalo Higuain, but Wenger has made it clear that he believes Benzema is the player that can fire Arsenal to their first Premier League title since 2004.

Benzema joined Real Madrid from Lyon in 2009 and has won one La Liga title and the Champions League since his arrival.

Last season, he scored 22 goals in 46 appearances for the club in all competitions.

No Fab end to Russki reign

FORMER England boss Fabio Capello has been shown the door as coach of the Russian national team.

The 69-year-old Italian (below) has managed the team for three years and his reign has hardly been a success.

The man Three Lions fans dubbed CRAPello saw his side fail to win a game at last year's World Cup in Brazil.

And the massive nation is struggling to qualify for Euro 2016 next summer.

They are third in Group G with a pathetic two wins from six matches. He was said to be coining a staggering £5million a year despite the Russian FA barely having a pot to piss in.

The Russian FA said: "The Russian Football Union and Fabio Capello, have reached an agreement to terminate his contract by mutual consent. The RFU thanks Fabio Capello and wishes him every success in his future career."

MART STICKS WITH MAC ATTACK

By PETE BAILEY

EVERTON boss Roberto Martinez says winger Aiden McGeady is going nowhere.

The Irish international has been on the radar of Celtic and Sunderland this summer.

But the Toffees boss says no club has been in touch and, in any case, McGeady is not for sale.

The 29-year-old isn't on the club tour of Singapore, but that's because he's injured and not so he can talk with other clubs.

Martinez said: "With Aiden there is nothing."

"I wouldn't like to go into every story and justify every rumour that is in the media, otherwise we would never finish."

"Aiden McGeady is an exceptional footballer and he has a talent that is very important for our squad."

"All we need now is to find a solution to that nagging hamstring problem that he has been carrying and I hope that Aiden can enjoy his football."

"When he does do that then he is quite unique."

"There has not been a conversation with another club about a possible transfer. What I am looking for is for him to be fully fit."

There was better news for Martinez over another player still on Merseyside, Leighton Baines.

He was expected to miss the start of the season after having ankle surgery late last year.

Progressing

But his recovery is ahead of schedule and the left-back should be available for the first game of the season against Watford.

Martinez said: "Leighton is well ahead of where we expected him to be. I expect him to be able to start the campaign fully fit. I think the first week in August is a realistic target for Leighton and I would say the same for Brian Oviedo."

"Both have been progressing really well and I do expect Leighton to be fully fit for the start of the campaign."

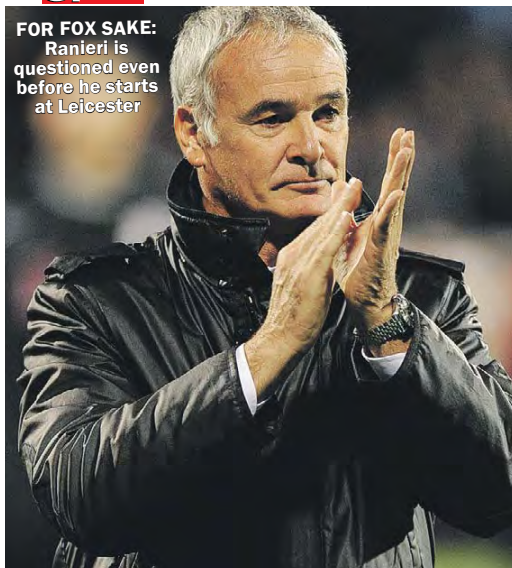

With Baines back, highly rated young left-back Luke Garbutt is heading out of Goodison on loan.

The gaffer added: "He's got a terrific future. He's got the best left-back possible to learn from in the shape of Leighton."

"The idea will be for him to go out on loan and get experience."

FOR FOX SAKE:
Ranieri is questioned even before he starts at Leicester

Ranieri move looks potty says Cotee

TONY COTTEE says his beloved Leicester City have taken a huge gamble appointing Claudio Ranieri as their new manager.

Cotee, who was a Foxes hero between 1997-2000, said: "I'm astonished. I just didn't see this one coming."

Ranieri, who has previously managed Chelsea, is seen as a surprise appointment with the club having previously been linked to Neil Lennon and Martin O'Neill.

Leicester sacked Nigel Pearson last month and Cotee thinks the club are taking a big Ranieri risk.

He said: "Obviously there have been many people linked to the job, but as far as I'm aware, Ranieri wasn't one and for me, it is a strange appointment."

"They made a massive risk getting rid of Nigel Pearson who did such a good job football-wise towards the end of last season."

"To appoint Ranieri now, bearing in mind where he has been the last 10 years, is a huge gamble."

Survival

It is 11 years since Ranieri, 63, worked in English football.

He went down faster than the economy in Greece, where he was sacked as national coach last year after only four games following the defeat by the Faroe Islands.

Former England international Cotee, who scored 27 times in 85 games for Leicester, thinks Ranieri's arrival will not be popular with the fans and says they will not be slow to voice their concerns.

Cotee added: "He has managed Premier League football before, but at Chelsea he was working with players that were capable of winning the Premier League.

"At Leicester, it's a completely different ball game."

"He is going to be dealing with players that are good players, but Leicester have got a fight for survival on their hands."

Cotee (above) believes Lennon and O'Neill would have been better choices.

He added: "I was hoping Lennon or O'Neill would go back to the club, people who understand what Leicester is all about, what the city is about and what it means to the fans."

"Sometimes it's better to go with people who understand the club."

"I'm disappointed one of my ex-players and ex-managers didn't get the chance to go back to the club."

THE ASHES 2015: SECOND TEST AT

WE CAN LORD IT AGAIN!

Anderson pledges to turn up pressure on misfiring Aussies

By JOHN ANTHONY

JIMMY ANDERSON is out to smash any idea that Lord's is a ground that England fear and touring teams love.

As it's the home of cricket, the away team often raises their game when treading on the hallowed turf.

And Australia will have to do a hell of a lot better when the second Ashes test kicks off in St John's Wood tomorrow.

They were very much second best in every area as England cruised to a four-day win in Cardiff last week.

Joe Root starred with the bat, but it was the bowling attack that turned the screw on the visitors.

All the bowlers took wickets in the match with Moeen Ali playing a key role and answering the critics who say he's not much of a bowler.

He took five wickets in the match and plundered a quick 77 as England looked superior in every department.

But it was the old firm of Stuart Broad and Anderson who got the job done and will again have to do the business at Lord's.

The England dressing room hasn't been the most harmonious place in recent years with all kinds of shite flying around about certain players refusing to speak to their team-mates.

But all that is out of the window now as England look a renewed force under new coach Trevor Bayliss.

The 52-year-old only came into the set up a few days before the Cardiff cruise.

And Anderson has paid tribute to the Aussie who has his hands on the tiller of the Three Lions.

He said: "He was brilliant."

"He's very different to most coaches I've had in the past, just very laid back he sort of glides around the dressing room throughout the day and then he always picked the right time to say something.

"If he had something to say it would be a little 60-second chat whether it be between innings or in the morning of the day's play and he got it spot on every time, everyone really enjoyed it."

But Jimmy wants his pals to remember the Lord's factor and up their game.

He added: "Any opposition we play at Lord's generally picks up their game 10 per cent for some reason."

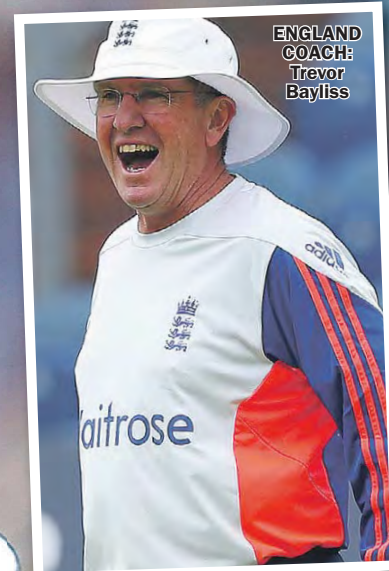

"When teams are 1-0 down they generally come back strong in the series, so we've got to be prepared for that."

"We felt satisfied that we had done a really good job

LEAVING? Valdes

Vic nears exit door at United

IT looks like one goalie is certain to be leaving Manchester United — and it's not David De Gea.

Instead, Victor Valdes' future is up in the air after he was dropped from the club's pre-season tour to America.

The 33-year-old was left at home by Louis van Gaal who instead took De Gea, Anders Lindegaard and youngster Sam Johnstone.

That's a shock as the United boss brought Valdes from Barcelona last year on an 18-month contract. He was out for more than a year with a knee injury, but is over that problem now.

He was pressed into action when De Gea was injured in the final home game of last season and was linked with the No.1 shirt if his younger rival heads to Real Madrid.

Despite Iker Casillas leaving the Bernabeu the De Gea saga still has some time to run with United making it clear that they don't want to sell and might keep the stopper to the final year on his contract.

Fight

And that means there's no room on the bench for Valdes and his relatively expensive wages.

United sources say Turkish club Antalyaspor are chasing the Spaniard, although he seems keen to find a higher profile club.

Valdes' agent Gines Carvajal says he is desperate to stay at Old Trafford and fight for his future in the Premier League.

"My player has no interest in a move to Antalyaspor," he said but that was before the plane ticket for the tour got lost in the post.

He added: "His only wishes are to remain at Manchester United and he has another year left on his contract."

"We don't see any reason for him to leave."

Several Premier League clubs would be interested should Valdes want to stay in England, with Everton in particular looking for a new keeper as Tim Howard looks to leave.

STARC TIMES: The tourists need a fully fit Mitchell Starc last week, but as soon as we left Cardiff it is on to the next game, that is gone and we have got to try to do the same things again."

With England naming an unchanged side, it's the Aussies who have tough questions to answer before the Urn is lost.

Coach Darren Lehmann has fitness worries over the only bowler who really performed in Cardiff, Mitchell Starc.

He was visibly limping through England's second innings and it shows just what a good player he is to take seven wickets in the match.

Lehmann is desperate to get the big left-armer back into the action, saying: "We've received some positive news with Mitchell Starc's right ankle showing significant improvement and we're hopeful that he'll be able to do some light training during the week and be available for selection."

Training

Brad Haddin will miss the game because of a "personal issue" meaning replacement keeper Peter Nevill will come in for his first international game of any kind.

The 37-year-old played little part in training yesterday and it's not known yet if he'll be staying in the UK.

The other man under pressure is Shane Watson who failed with bat and ball and looks past his best.

The 34-year-old is widely expected to be dropped in favour of Mitchell Marsh, who has been in good form in the warm-up games and looks a better prospect at this stage of each player's career.

But team-mate David Warner leapt to Watto's defence and thinks a big innings is coming.

He said: "I feel Watson is in a great space at the moment, he's doing everything right."

"The other day we all got ourselves in and just didn't go on with it."

"It's as simple as that. I think he's a great asset to our team and brings a lot of experience as well."

SWAP SHOP: United want Cavani and are keen to ditch Di Maria (inset)

Reds want to swap Di Maria for Cavani

By MIKE MURRAY

MAN United are lining up a sensational swap deal with Paris St-Germain.

The Reds are offering Angel Di Maria — plus cash — for Edinson Cavani.

The Uruguay striker is rated in the £50million bracket so the dosh on top is likely to be in the region of £10m.

But that would be a great result for United who have seen their record signing be a massive flop since moving from Real Madrid for a jaw dropping £59m last season.

Cavani is the man boss Louis

Van Gaal wants to fill the gap left by Robin Van Persie, who finally completed his move to Fenerbahce yesterday.

He has already brought in Memphis Depay from PSV and Thomas Muller is another on the LVG wish list.

With Cavani alongside Wayne Rooney, that would give United the kind of forward line to give them a real chance of winning back their Premier League title.

The Uruguayan has been a big hit since moving to Paris from Napoli from for £50m two years ago.

He has scored 34 goals in 64 matches alongside Zlatan Ibra-himovic — not a bad return for a player who isn't an out-and-out poacher.

He's also notched 24 times in 68 internationals so there's no doubting his pedigree.

Di Maria almost joined PSG before moving to United and would slot straight into the team.

At 28, Cavani is reaching his peak years and, if the swap deal can be done, he'd do very little damage to United's finances either with the transfer fee or his wages.

Although he says he's happy in Paris the greater financial rewards of the Premier League would be tough to resist.
